Singer Takes Option To Purchase Dock Property

Deal Made to Purchase Hiltebrant Dock Property, Between Rhinebeck Ferry and Old Skillypot Landing — Also Office Building of Steamboat Company — Expects To Erect Large Garage.

William Singer of the Singer Service Station on East Strand has taken an option to purchase the Hiltebrant dock property, lying between the Rhinebeck ferry landing and the former landing of the Skillypot on the Rondout creek. The deal, if it goes through, will include the three story brick building now used for offices of the Hudson River Steamboat Company, successors to the Central Hudson Line.

When the property of the Central Hudson Steamboat Company was purchased by the Hudson River Day Line and the Hudson River Night Line a new steamboat company was organized to handle the property to be known as the Hudson River Steamboat Company.

Recently the Hudson River Steamboat Company sold dock properties in this city, Poughkeepsie, Milton and Newburgh to a syndicate of Newburgh men who had formed a new company to be known as the Lexana Company.

The former Central Hudson property that was sold to the Newburgh syndicate included the dock property from the Rhinebeck ferry to the old Skillypot landing and also the office building of the Central Hudson Line. It is this property that Singer has taken an option to purchase.

The option expires August 1, and if the deal is consummated, as expected, Mr. Singer stated today that he expected to erect a large garage on the dock property known as the Hiltebrant dock property. The brick building he expects to dispose of.

This property was leased for nearly 40 years from the Cornell Hudson Line by Mr. Hiltebrant, who for many years operated the coal pockets and was engaged in the retail coal business until he sold the business to the former coal firm of Watts & Tammany. The latter was taken over by the Kingston Coal Company.

Since retiring from the coal business Mr. Hiltebrant has been operating the property as a gas station and garage.

AGENTS RAID CONVENT AND FIND NOTHING.

Los Angeles, July 18 (AP).—Details of a raid made Saturday by prohibition agents from the district attorney's office on a convent in Belvedere, a suburb, were contained in an order issued last night by District Attorney Buron Fitts that his subordinates should secure search warrants before invading private residences.

The raid was made on the convent, in which refugee nuns from Mexico were housed, by deputies on a tip from the constable's office of Belvedere that a still was in operation there, Fitts said.

Captain Clyde Plummer, chief of the district attorney's prohibition enforcement detail, said his men forced a door when the nuns refused to admit them. No search warrant was obtained. Captain Plummer said nothing was found, and the situation had been adjusted, apologies made and damages to the door paid for.

Constable Harry Tucker of Belvedere said a few days ago he had received information that a still was being operated somewhere in the vicinity of the building. Two days prior to the raid, he said, he and a deputy from Los Angeles visited the convent and talked to Father Gutierrez.

Isadore Dockweiler, attorney, who acted for Bishop J. J. Cantwell in the matter, said he investigated the case and was convinced the report which caused the raid was made with intent to embarrass the district attorney.

NEW YORK'S LONGEST BAR DIDN'T LAST LONG

New York, July 18 (AP).—A bar almost a block long, reputed the biggest in New York, was in the hands of federal prohibition authorities today.

The establishment, known as the Green Room Grill, was said to have opened only recently. It was located in an apparently vacant loft building in West 48th street. It extended almost to the next street.

About 150 men were lined up along its brass rail as six federal agents forced an entrance.

MRS. CAROLYN ROTHSTEIN WEDS BRITISH BANKER.

New York, July 18 (AP).—The recent marriage in London of Mrs. Carolyn Rothstein, widow of the slain Broadway gambler, Arnold Rothstein, to Robert Beha, British banker and antique expert, became known here today.

Abraham Smolens, counsel for Mrs. Rothstein in a contest over Rothstein's will, said she met Beha three years ago. Mrs. Rothstein had been living apart from her husband at the time he was shot on the night of November 4.

Crowd Attends Opening of Sale At R. & G. Store

The second annual "Department Managers' Sale" at the Rose & Gorman store on North Front street opened today with a very large crowd in attendance. With the department managers in control of the 31 departments of the store, each trying to outdo the other 30 departments, there was some keen rivalry between the various store departments.

For nine days the department managers will be in control of the store and during the nine days of the sale there will be different bargains offered each day. The first "Department Managers' Sale" was held by Rose & Gorman last year and the outcome was so successful that the event was continued again this year.

Early shoppers, keen on getting first choice of the many bargains, were at the store when the doors opened at 9 o'clock and throughout the day business continued brisk throughout the store where the managers vied with each other to make his or her department show the greatest percentage of gain over regular volume of business.

During the nine day sale which opened today there will be featured bargains in the various departments with the manager of the department selecting the merchandise and setting the sale price.

Mr. Frey Hurt In Auto Crash

Two Cars Collided Wednesday Afternoon at Henry Street and Clinton Avenue and One of the Cars Crashed Into a Parked Car Injuring W. A. Frey.

William A. Frey of the Kingston Coal Company was injured Wednesday afternoon when two automobiles came together at the intersection of Henry street and Clinton avenue, and one of the cars crashed into his car which was parked in front of his home at 52 Clinton avenue. Mr. Frey was knocked about ten feet and was badly shaken up and bruised about the back, hip and arm, but was able to be out today.

The cars that came together were a Ford coupe of Melvin Wolff of 91 Abeel street, who was driving north on Clinton avenue, and an Oldsmobile touring car of Arthur Fiorella of 31 Gill street, which was proceeding over Henry street. The Hudson car of Harry Frey was parked in front of the Frey residence. Harry Frey stood on one side of the car while his father stood on the curb on the opposite side of the car. They were both busy adjusting the cushions in the front seat when Harry heard the crash and saw one of the cars headed toward them. He called to his father to run, but Mr. Frey did not hear him and the Ford coupe crashed into the Hudson car. As it did so Mr. Frey was struck by the open door of the Hudson car and hurled about ten feet. Harry, who had jumped to one side when he saw the Ford headed toward them, ran to his father and assisted him to his feet.

All three cars were more or less damaged.

Several Killed In Train Wreck

Stratton, Col., July 18 (AP).—Plunged into a stream swollen by a cloudburst, several passengers on a coach of west-bound Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific train No. 5 met death early today in the submerged car. An early report said 12 persons were believed to have lost their lives. A railroad report said seven passengers and a porter were in the car.

Russia Breaks With China

Grave Political Consequences May Follow the Action of the Soviet Government—Present Crisis Is Outcome of Seizure of Russian-owned Railway.

Moscow, July 18 (AP).—Soviet Russia proceeded today to make immediately effective a complete break in relations with the Chinese Nationalist government. The action portended, possibly, the gravest political consequences.

Russian representatives in China, both trade and diplomatic, were ordered home, railway communication between the two countries was suspended, and Chinese officials in Russia were told they must leave immediately.

The break came late last night, almost to the hour of expiration of a three-day ultimatum given by Moscow to Nanking demanding restoration of the status quo in Manchuria, where Chinese officials have seized the Russian-owned Chinese Eastern Railway.

A note to Sia Wen Sun, Chinese charge d'affaires here, from L. M. Karakhan, vice commissar for foreign affairs, announced the Soviet action. It said the Nanking government's answer to the Moscow ultimatum had been entirely unsatisfactory. Previously there had been reason to believe the Nanking answer would be considered conciliatory.

M. Karakhan's note said that all means of reaching an amicable settlement of the situation growing out of events in Manchuria had been exhausted. Entire responsibility for the consequences were placed on the Chinese government. The answer of Nanking was termed unsatisfactory in content and hypocritical in tone.

The Soviet note follows in part: "Desirous of restoring the legal basis of relations between the U. S. S. R. and China, disturbed by the Chinese authorities, the Soviet government advanced in its first note three absolutely necessary and perfectly moderate proposals. The Chinese government practically has rejected these proposals.

"Instead of restoring the Peking-Mukden agreement (that of 1924) the Chinese note sanctions a one-sided abrogation of the agreements, thereby destroying the possibility of normal relations between the two countries. Instead of reversing the unlawful actions of the Tupan of the Chinese Eastern Railway the Chinese note sanctions them, thereby justifying seizure of the railway.

"The Chinese note sanctions unlawful repressions against Soviet citizens and institutions and hypocritically attempts to justify them by false reference to mass repressions of China's citizens in the U. S. S. R. The China government is well aware repressions in the U. S. S. R. were employed only against a negligible group of spies, opium traders, den keepers, smugglers, and other criminal elements.

"The real object of the violent actions on the Chinese Eastern Railway and of the Chinese note becomes especially clear from the official press declaration of President Chiang Kai Shek, who justifies the unlawful actions on the railway and plainly declares:

"'Our measures are designed to take over the Chinese Eastern Railway. There is nothing unusual in the measures to take the railway in our hands. We first want to take over the railway and then take up discussion of the other question.'

"These statements leave no doubt as to the real meaning of the Chinese note."

ONLY WOMAN MEMBER INTIMATES GOVERNORS HEDGED

Meredith, N. H., July 18 (AP).—Miss Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe and the only woman member of President Hoover's national law enforcement commission, has no opinion on the proposals set forth by George W. Wickersam, chairman of the commission, to the governors' conference at New London, Conn., regarding prohibition enforcement, but believes them "interesting and worthy of careful consideration".

She suggested that the Wickersham letter probably was in the nature of a "feeler" to find out what the country thought about the plan and said she considered it probable that similar questions would be raised by the commission's spokesman to obtain the benefit of the views of others.

"If the commission is going to get anywhere it will have to have the benefit of the thought, opinion and knowledge of the people of the United States who are interested in good government," she said.

A newspaperman found Miss Comstock on the veranda of a friend's bungalow where she is spending a few days. "I have just been reading the statements of the governors on Mr. Wickersham letter," she said with a smile. "I thought they were rather amusing. Did you ever see hedging?" she asked.

ATTEMPT AGAINST LIFE OF AUSTRIAN PRESIDENT

Vienna, July 18 (AP).—An attempt against the life of President Mikias of Austria was frustrated today with the arrest of a man giving his name as Anton Leitner, a tailor's assistant. Leitner was stated by the police to have admitted he was seeking to ambush the President near the gate of the foreign office. The man loitered near the gate with a loaded revolver in his pocket for some time. Finally his suspicions actions caused his arrest.

Washington Is Keeping in Touch With the Orient

Controversy Between Russia and China Receives Close Study—American Interests Involved—Food Shortage and Lack of Funds May Make for Peace, but Situation is "Loaded with Dynamite."

Washington, July 18 (AP).—With mingled feelings of apprehension lest war be imminent in the Orient and hope that armed hostilities may yet be avoided, the Washington government is keeping close watch on the rapidly developing controversy between Russia and China.

Press dispatches and consular advice from Manchuria are being given detailed study in a search for the proper interpretation of the action of the Soviet Union in breaking off diplomatic relations with the Nanking government and what it may presage.

While it was pointed out that war would not necessarily follow and circumstances were cited which were regarded as virtually compelling an amicable settlement, it was generally agreed that the diplomatic rupture had served at best to add considerable gloom to the outlook.

With America's extensive far eastern interests necessarily involved, the state department has kept in constant touch with the situation since its inception a week ago today in the seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway by the Chinese. President Hoover himself has followed developments with an interest induced not only by the gravity of the situation, but by an intimate knowledge of the places and conditions involved which he gained during years of travel in Siberia and Manchuria as a mining engineer.

By some officials the severance of the thin thread of diplomatic intercourse that has kept Russia and China on speaking terms since the Communistic outbreak in Canton two years ago was accepted as logical. To them it was the expected result of the stand taken by the Soviet government, its ultimatum and veiled threat of retaliation, and its interpretation of the Chinese reply as unsatisfactory.

Others, while not discounting reports of troop movements on both sides of the Siberian-Manchurian border, were of the belief that a series of economic circumstances would avert actual warfare.

They pointed out that both the Nanking and Moskow regimes are young as governments go, have yet to attain financial stability, and could be expected to prove extremely reluctant to undertake an expensive war. The food shortage in both countries also was cited, together with the difficulty Russia would encounter in transporting troops and supplies across Siberia and main communication lines over such a distance.

World diplomacy, it was felt, also would bring its influence to bear in favor of peace, primarily because of the manifold interests of the world powers in the orient and anxiety lest conflict with untold ramifications result. The Kellogg Anti-war Treaty, of which both Russia and China are adherents was regarded as another important factor making for peace.

Officials are waiting eagerly for some indication of the attitude of Japan, as the foreign nation most directly interested.

On the other side of the balance, the war terror and anti-Chinese demonstrations reported from Moscoe, and reports of troop movements and an outbreak of hostilities on the northern Manchurian border, were cited as factors which would not be ignored and as adding uncertainty to a situation described by one official as "loaded with dynamite."

FORCED LAD OF FOURTEEN TO DIG HIS OWN GRAVE.

Mexico City, July 18 (AP).—Newspaper dispatches from Colima published today told how a 14-year-old Mexican boy, Adolfo Villanueva, was forced to dig his own grave before he was executed by Manuel Marmolejo, bandit chieftain.

Marmolejo's band had captured the boy several weeks ago but he had managed to escape. He was taken again a few days ago and carried to the mountain retreat of the bandits where the leader ordered him to dig a grave, telling him it was for a man who had been sentenced to death.

As the task was finished the bandit said to the lad: "The grave you have dug is your own. You will not escape again." Marmolejo then drew his pistol and shot the boy, whose body fell into the grave.

The annual picnic of the Wurts Street Baptist Sunday school will be held on Tuesday afternoon, July 23, at the Tri Men's Camp at Glenerie. The scholars will meet at the church that afternoon at 2 o'clock, where automobiles will be waiting to convey them to the picnic grounds.

Big Crowd Sees Parachute Jump

First Night Parachute Jump Attracts Throng to Powell Airport—Lindgren Will Jump Again Saturday and Sunday.

Kingston's first night parachute jump from an airplane Wednesday attracted one of the largest crowds which have ever attended any event at the Powell airport. Eric Lindgren, who has made many jumps over Kingston made a perfect landing exactly in the circle on the field here after a drop in an eight-foot silk parachute. The jump was made about 10:30 o'clock and long before that automobiles were lined up for a mile along the roads adjoining the flying field. After circling the field a few times Lindgren jumped and released his parachute almost immediately, floating to the ground where thousands of people were gathered.

The chute used by Lindgren was illuminated by electric lights supplied by dry batteries which he carried. Inside the chute was a large light which made it possible to follow his drop.

The plane used in the drop was piloted by Harper Molyneaux who has been doing night flying over the city for the past two nights. His plane is equipped with ground lights which illuminate the field as he lands and makes possible the observation of the plane while in the air. Several passenger flights preceeded the parachute drop.

Eric Lindgren, who made the jump is nearing his 1,000 mark and although many people are under the impression that he is under contract by the local flying field to make these jumps his only reward for the jumps, is the collection which the flyers make from the crowds during the drop. In some instances this collection is comparatively small in relation to the cost and risk taken by Lindgren.

The crowd Wednesday night was so large that word was sent in to the sheriff's office shortly after 10 o'clock stating that the highway was blocked for a mile beyond the flying field and the Sawkill road was completely tied up. Traffic was unable to move and Under Sheriff Doyle and Deputy Sheriff Constable had a real job on their hands to get traffic moving. For half an hour after the jump traffic was tied up and the efforts of both officials were required to get cars moving on the main highway. It is estimated that nearly 5,000 people witnessed the jump.

Jumps Saturday and Sunday.

Another jump will be made by Lindgren Saturday evening about 8 o'clock and on Sunday two jumps will be made. The first jump Sunday will be at 7:30 o'clock and the second one will be a moonlight jump in an illuminated parachute at 10:30 o'clock at night.

Without giving any explanation as to why the change was made, a representative of the big tri-motored Ford monoplane which was scheduled to arrive at the field today, called Wednesday evening on Mr. Powell at the local field and announced that there had been a change in plan and the plane would not stop off at Kingston over the week end. Why this change was made he did not state. The plane will go to Hudson without stopping at Kingston. This announcement was a great disappointment to Mr. Powell after announcing in the local papers that the plane would be at the field at least three days.

VIGOROUS OBJECTIONS FROM DRY GROUP.

Washington, July 18 (AP).—The prohibition enforcement suggestions advanced by George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's law enforcement commission, in his letter read at the governors' conference in New London, Conn., have aroused vigorous objections in at least one section of the dry group.

Saying the chairman has "sacrificed his usefulness" by suggesting that responsibility for prohibition enforcement be divided between the federal and state governments and that, if this were done, "the national and state laws might be modified so as to become reasonably enforceable", Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, "hopes" he will resign.

The Arkansas Senator, long prominent as an advocate and defender of prohibition, holds that the latter brands the dry laws as "unenforceable" and gives "encouragement to the criminal world". It is the "worst blow prohibition has suffered," he declares, and "unless Hoover acquiesced in the letter" he expects Wickersham "to resign soon".

"The usefulness of the commission," he says in his statement on the incident, "already is destroyed if Wickersham continues at its head. Nobody believes he is capable of an impartial survey of the prohibition question."

FARMER DECAPITATED BY STEEL BEAM ON TRUCK

Little Falls, N. Y., July 18 (AP).—A steel bridge beam, projecting from the rear of a truck trailer, virtually decapitated the driver of a vegetable truck near here early today. The dead man is Joseph Scarlato, a Canastota farmer. His two sons, Anthony, eight, and James, seven, who were riding with him, escaped death but were taken to a hospital for treatment. The driver of the truck conveying the beam was sought for questioning.

Work To Commence On Montgomery Ward Store

Building Will Have Two Stories and Basement With Frontage of 53 Feet on Fair Street and a Depth of 118 Feet — Plan to Open Department Store About November 15 — Varied Lines of Merchandise Will Be Carried.

Selection of Kingston as a location for a Montgomery Ward and Company store after an exhaustive investigation and survey which proved this city to be one of the most progressive shopping centers in this section of the state," stated one of the Montgomery Ward and Company representatives.

This will be one of the type of stores similar to those being erected for Montgomery Ward and Company throughout various sections of the United States. The progress and development of these stores has long passed through the experimental stage.

This store will be what might be called a junior department store. As many as possible of the items most urgently needed for each season of the year will be carried in stock for sale direct to the customer. Mail orders will be taken at the store for such merchandise as is not carried in stock, but which may be selected from the catalogue. Automobile tires and automobile accessories, paint, hardware, home furnishings, washing machines, sporting goods, the major lines of men's and women's apparel and accessories will be carried in stock.

"One objective of these new stores will be to give quick over-the-counter service to the new customers, as well as to those old friends of Montgomery Ward & Company of this locality who formerly bought from Ward's by mail," according to the Montgomery Ward and Company representative.

It was mentioned that, while the store cannot stock all of the 35,000 articles which are described in the catalogue, yet the firm will sell for delivery thousands of items and many complete lines for which the customers have immediate need.

"White" Russians Reported Active

Anti-Soviet Leader Said to Be Planning to Take Advantage of Situation Between Russia and China.

Tokyo, July 18 (AP).—A foreign office spokesman commenting today on the rupture between Russia and China said the new Soviet note not necessarily meant war but did indicate a Russian determination to insist upon its interests and rights under the Peiping and Mukden agreements.

At the same time the spokesman added: "We do not at all exclude the possibility of open war between the two countries, as loss of the Chinese Eastern Railway must be a matter of life and death to Vladivostok."

Even before the breach between Russia and China was known Japanese press dispatches from Harbin indicated that a stiffening of the Russian front was taking place with great concentrations of troops on the Soviet side.

Persistent rumors that "White" Russians were aiding the Chinese in their conflict with the Soviet were confirmed today with a message to the retired Japanese major, Kuroki, from Ataman Semionov, white leader, at Dairen, whom he served as aide for many years. Semionov summoned him to come to Dairen where he was planning to launch a drive of his anti-Soviet efforts.

Major Kuroki said there were about 50,000 White Russians in Manchuria available for military service. He declared the time seemed a golden opportunity for a White army at the Red troops.

[illegible] the women, with the exception of the wife of Grabner, who was driving, were forced to alight from the car. Then the bandits drove off in the machine, leaving the party stranded on the highway.

Warning the party that they would "shoot on sight" if they attempted to follow, the robbers [illegible] the women with the exception of the wife of Grabner, who was driving, were forced to alight from the car. Then the bandits drove off in the machine, leaving the party stranded on the highway.

When the traffic congestion was relieved a truck driver came from the east and ran toward a cop.

"Bandits got a car," he cried. "They took Grabner's car."

The two robbers jumped from the car [illegible] and pursued him, but made no effort to fire. They then jumped into their own car, which was close behind Grabner's, and were driven swiftly away down a side road.

In later years a new and more commodious schoolhouse was erected on a lot along the brook just east of Mrs. Mary Jane Hill's place, but it was the building near the church wherein the children of Civil War days learned their three R's to the accompaniment of a hickory switch.

Sidney Clapp and David Goldberger of the engineering staff of the board of water supply were business callers here last Tuesday.

Gardner Donahue and Basil Beesmer on Tuesday conveyed the town stone crusher to the Ashokan district where it will be used in making the mountain road fit to drive over. Heavy trucks, hauling building material to the Pitcairn estate, have all but wrecked this piece of highway, and its improvement will be duly appreciated by residents of the twin villages and their environs.

Two motor accidents of minor importance last Tuesday served to liven things up a bit hereabouts: A lady driver rammed her car into the machine ahead, near the church, and received an injured arm, while at the store a mere male operator swerved from the straight and narrow and bounced over some girders placed on the hay which covers the south track, coming within an ace of turning turtle. Joe Reilly, Herman Weidner and Traffic Officer Homer Markle gave the second motorist a big lift, and by detouring through Mr. Winchell's lawn he was able finally to get back on his original trail again.

Howard Brooks is engaged on an extensive painting job at the Kreke-ler mansion. Howard is a fast worker and his services with the brush are in great demand.

Miss Elsie Mayer, of New York, is a guest of the Longyear boarding house. Miss Mayer was brought up in Shokan, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gothart Mayer, respected residents of this section in pre-reservoir days for many years Mr. Mayer conducted the large tannery at the junction of the Esopus and Buttermilk. A son, Fred Mayer, who also lived in Shokan years ago, was killed in the World War.

The paving of the new concrete road is now completed for the entire distance, and sections of the south track will be thrown open to traffic as fast as the condition of the cement work warrants it. To say that Shokan folks are proud of their new road, one of the finest in the state, is putting it mildly; in fact, some of our most active civic boosters are already beginning to crow about this classy rolling-lane. One man, who has property for sale, has tacked an added five hundred dollars onto his original price, reasoning, no doubt, that the new boulevard enhances the value of the place that much.

Arthur Carter, who on Sunday suffered a violent attack of summer grippe, is able to drive down to the village again. Earl Brundage, a neighbor of the Carters, made a hurried trip for Dr. Dumond and in spite of the heavy traffic at the time soon had the medical man up on the heights treating Mr. Carter for his trouble.

Mrs. Vera Delgin and little daughter, who have been spending a week at Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Osterhoudt's, returned to their home in Brooklyn Tuesday evening.

Many residents of Shokan as well as a large number of the city visitors here, are taking advantage of the fine bathing in the gorge below the spillway. Included among the regular visitors to this beautiful pool are Mr. and Mrs. Bostock and their seven children, who are the newest additions to the summer resident colony here.

Frank Cosgrove is sojourning at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elmendorf.

Mrs. Singer of Samsonville, was a business caller in Shokan Tuesday. The Singers have become permanent residents of the West Olive village, having bought the former I. V. Shurter farm, near the Noah Barringer place.

Miss Violet Abkarian, of Pelham, is spending a week with her friend, Mrs. C. A. Winchell.

Fred Markle, a former resident of this setion, renewed old acquaintances in Shokan recently. Mr. Markle who lives at Newton, N. J., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Morris, in Ashokan.

Mr. Eble, who had been staying at the Reformed parsonage recently, died of a stroke on Tuesday. Mr. Eble's son, O. E. Eble, and daughter-in-law, of Newark, N. J., who have also been guests of the Rev. Augustus Pfaus, have the sympathy of their many friends in this place in their bereavement.

Dry Law Ruined Art of Dining

Oscar Tschirky, famous as Oscar of the Waldorf, came to the Ritz-Carlton, Atlantic City, Tuesday for a vacation while awaiting the completion of the new Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. He had a few things to say about prohibition:

"Prohibition has not only ruined the art of dining but it is accountable for the boisterous and noisy conduct in hotels that was absent before the Volstead act. People formerly came to dinner early, ate it with relish and lingered over it. Now they dash in at 7:30, eat a few dishes, and then dash out at 8:30 to see the curtain rise on an 8:40 show.

"No one wants to eat a well-prepared meal without sipping a bit of wine. In the old days there was never any disturbance in a hotel. We had our large bar to which people came when they wished a drink. Now they take liquor to their rooms and become noisy and disturb other guests who want to sleep."

ACCORD.

Accord, July 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hendrickson spent last Sunday with their daughter, Lulie, at West Haverstraw.

Mrs. Russell Lawrence is having her house wired for electricity.

Isidor Friedman, who has been confined to the Kingston Hospital with a broken leg for several weeks, returned to his home last Saturday.

Miss Ada Yeaple, who was operated on for appendicitis several days ago, is improving.

When his house burned, Benjamin Leeds, Civil War veteran of Hillsboro, N. H., moved a lunch-room building to the site. He lives there with four black cats and a radio set.

LABOR TROUBLE SUSPECTED IN HAMMOND EXPLOSION

Hammond, Ind., July 18 (AP).—An explosion today wrecked the Goldie department store, a two-story brick structure, and caused approximately $65,000 damage.

The roof and upper walls of the building were demolished. Firemen and police believed naphtha or gasoline was poured over the second floor, which was unoccupied, and when the fumes collected the explosion followed.

An automobile was seen leaving the vicinity of the store, in the foreign section of the town, shortly before the blast and police said labor trouble might have been the motive.

Damage to the store's stock was estimated at $15,000.

ENGLAND FEARS FUTURE TROUBLE IF TROTZKY ENTERS

London, July 18 (AP).—Permission for Leon Trotzky, Bolshevik leader exiled in Constantinople, to enter England was refused because of the difficulty the British government might have in securing his departure if his presence ever became embarrassing, Home Secretary John R. Clynes said in the House of Commons this afternoon.

"The government's view is that if Trotzky were to come here persons of mischievous intentions would unquestionably seek to exploit his presence for their own ends, and if in consequence he became a source of grave embarrassment, the government could have no certainty of being able to secure his departure," Mr. Clynes explained.

GOVERNOR ACCEPTS HELP OF BAR ASSOCIATIONS

New London, Conn., July 18 (AP).—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, attending the governors' conference here, said today he had decided to accept the proffered assistance of the New York City Bar Association and the New York County Lawyers' Association in the investigation of Judge Francis X. Mancuso's part in the City Trust case.

Governor Roosevelt declared he would send telegrams to the two bar associations telling of his decision upon his return to New York late today.

Local Death Record

Loretta A. Gordon, wife of Jonathan D. Gordon, died in this city on Monday, July 15. Notice of funeral later.

Funeral services for Ferdinand Warringer were held at his late home on Elm street, Saugerties, Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. E. L. Howe, of Trinity Church, officiating. Ulster Lodge, No. 193, F. & A. M., escorted the body to Mountain View Cemetery, where the Masonic funeral rites were carried out. George F. Kaufman delivered the panegyric and the Rev. John Neander acted as chaplain. The bearers were Alfred R. MacMullen, Percy M. Abeel, Norman Cole, Herman L. Snyder, Alfred Bradley and Josiah Perks. A number of beautiful floral pieces covered the casket.

The funeral of Miles R. McKiernan was held from his residence, 85 Cedar street, this morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 o'clock, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Edmund P. Burke. The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. The bearers were Carrol Hacket, Rolland Post, Carrol Cook of the Catskill Mountain Star of Saugerties, Ernest Magnusson, Christopher Roche and John Rourke of the local typographical union. The interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery where Father Burke pronounced final absolution.

Statue of Savior to Guard Rio de Janeiro

Rio De Janeiro.—A great statue of Christ, to watch over Rio de Janeiro from a 2,200-foot hill commanding the harbor and city, is being built on Corcovado (Hunchback) peak, and will be finished in two years.

This 125-foot figure, which with its pedestal will reach 150 feet above the famous Hunchback, will vie with New York's Statue of Liberty in prominence and will surpass greatly in size the Christ of the Andes, which stands on the border of Chile and Argentina as a symbol of perpetual peace between those nations.

A fund of $720,000, which the statue will cost, is being collected by the Catholic Center of this city. Work was begun two years ago. Thirty workmen are putting up the ironwork for the reinforced concrete pedestal and body, over which will be placed a surface of blue-green tiles. The Christ's outstretched arms will cover 125 feet of width, and can be seen for many miles both on land and sea.

Paul Landowski, a Russian sculptor, designed the monument, and Silva Costa is the architect. It bears the words, "Christ conquered, reigns, rules," in Latin.

Tells Hubby to Feed New Bungalows Himself

Chicago.—Mrs. Anna Scharlog, 3903 North Cicero avenue, may know her bungalows now, but the time was when she wouldn't let her husband, Alexander, "bring them into the house," he declared.

"She thought a bungalow was just some new kind of a dog," Scharlog told Judge Sabath after his wife, who recently sued for divorce, haled him into court for contempt on the ground he hadn't told her about the four bungalows he had built.

"When I wrote her about them, she told me she didn't want them around. And she said I'd have to feed them myself."

"Perhaps," suggested the court, "she couldn't read your writing and thought you meant buffaloes."

Both admitted they hadn't been on speaking terms for ten years and communicated with each other by writing.

The Fall of Man

The sermon had been about the Fall of Man. Two farmers met at the end of the service.

"Weel, Dauvit," asked Tammas, "and what did ye think of the sermon?"

"Oh" Dauvit replied, "the sermon was a'richt, but I was just thinkin' what a difference it wad hae made to the history o' the world if I'd been in Adam's place. Ye see, I dinna gie a hang for apples."—Birmingham (England) Weekly Post.

Speechless

Little Bobby attended a military function at Culver, where guards in full regalia were standing about. His curiosity led him into attempted conversation with one of them, who, however, made no reply, but stood properly at attention, gazing at nothing under his hat with the military chin-strap. Finally Bobby, discouraged, remarked, "I dess he tant talk wiv dat sing under his chin."—Indianapolis News.

Cabbage Long Popular

Though scientific opinion of cabbage has proved inconstant, popular opinion apparently has changed little. Even in the time of Pliny it was the vegetable of the people, "in great request in the kitchen and among our riotous gluttons."

BODY OF UNKNOWN WOMAN FOUND IN WATER AT NIAGARA

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 18 (AP).—The body of an auburn-haired woman, about 30 years old, taken from the basin of the Niagara Falls Power Company's hydraulic canal today, is in an undertaking establishment awaiting identification. The body is that of a woman five feet, five inches tall, and weighing 160 pounds. It had been in the water less than five days.

Coroner W. L. Draper said he did not believe there was any foul play connected with the woman's death.

PLAN REVISION OF STATE LIEN LAWS

New York, July 18 (AP).—A committee of the state legislature, appointed to design a program of revisions for the state lien laws, met today and discussed various phases of the proceedure to be followed in considering proposed changes.

The proposal that the committee circulate among the interests affected by the lien laws a questionnaire to discover just what the present situation is in the building trades met with approval, but another meeting will be held, at a date to be determined by State Senator George R. Fearon of Syracuse, chairman of the committee, to consider the form of the questionnaire.

West Berlin, N. J., July 18 (AP).—Charles Forepaugh, 92, one of the founders of the famous Forepaugh circus, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. W. Matlack.

Fifty years ago he and his late brother, Adam, were among the best known showmen in the world. With four other brothers and a sister, all of whom are now dead, they took the Forepaugh circus all over the United States and Europe.

OMLIE ON FLIGHT FROM ALBANY TO DES MOINES.

Albany, N. Y., July 18 (AP).—Phoebe L. Omlie, 26-year-old New New York flier, left Albany this morning for Des Moines, Iowa, in a small cabin plane, flying against time for a $1,000 prize offered in connection with the Iowa Air Industrial Exposition.

Her plane carried forty gallons of gas and five quarts of oil for the five-cylinder radial engine. She planned refueling stops at Syracuse, Buffalo, Cleveland and South Bend, Ind., and expected to arrive at her destination tomorrow morning.

The only woman pilot in the Detroit national air races last year, Mrs. Omlie was one of the few pilots to reach the west coast.

FLIES TO IRELAND VIA FAROE ISLANDS

Reykjavik, Iceland, July 18 (AP).—Herr Grunau, director of a German flying school, who flew here yesterday from Sylt, an island off the west coast of German Schleswig, said excellent weather held throughout the flight. The first hop, from Sylt to the Faroe Islands, required eight hours. The plane was refueled and continued to Iceland in 5½ hours.

In England the venture was first considered a "mystery flight." Herr Grunau said the plane will remain in Iceland five days, making reconnaissance trips around the island, after which it will leave for home by way of Scotland.

Motor trouble forced the plane down on the first attempt after it had been in the air 20 hours.

LET CHINA ALONE.

Foreigners living in China are usually critical of the policy of their home governments. Perhaps this is especially characteristic of Americans in China. No doubt they are honest enough about it. But their attitude is colored by their private business interests and associations. They may have little conception of the public requirements which go to shape international policy. They may not be able to see the woods for the trees. Outsiders focussing on the situation from a distance may get a truer view.

Something like this must have been in the mind of Dwight Davis, governor-general of the Philippines, when he addressed the American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai the other day. He told the members that Americans living in that part of the world have "no conception of the deep concern" felt by Americans at home for proper relations with the Far East. He intimated that perhaps the government at Washington, and the public supporting it, know what they are doing when they insist on letting China work out its own destiny, without hindrance from America or Europe.

The Orient, no less than the Occident, has been touched by the ideal we made so prominent in the World War—self-determination of races and nations. The East must live its own life and solve its own problems. Who are we to interfere? Even if we wanted to, we cannot shape Orientals to our pattern, nor can they shape us to theirs. And if it were possible, the result would be a loss to both.

Mutual respect and tolerance is the only way. That way come gradual understanding, friendship and profit.

FORESTS TO FIGHT FLOODS.

Better management, protection, and re-forestation of the remaining 125 million acres of forest land in the Mississippi water shed are urged by the United States Forest Service in a recent report on flood control in the Mississippi basin. Forests hold back water and assist in reducing floods through their great power of absorption. They make an effective check against erosion or washing away of soil, thus reducing silting of the river channels and reservoirs.

According to the report, if all the forests of the Mississippi drainage basin were properly protected and managed in accordance with forestry principles, they would lower possible flood crests many inches and would restrain water equivalent to more than 40,000,000 acre feet.

Here is an opportunity for productive co-operation between the federal government and the states of the Mississippi valley. The forest service keeps on reminding the public, too, that forests properly cared for can be made to produce an annual profitable crop of timber in addition to the other benefits they confer.

EDUCATION AND WEALTH.

A speaker at the recent meeting of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs made again the oft-repeated statement that college women earn more than women of less education. That is, they might earn more if they chose the right jobs. Usually they fail to enter the occupations offering the greatest financial rewards. They turn to teaching or social work chiefly, two very useful and important types of service, but not so remunerative as business careers.

Perhaps this is also the case with college men. Statistics have shown that of two men doing the same kind of work, the man with college training rises higher and achieves greater financial success than the man with only high school education or less. But when the college-trained man takes up teaching, the ministry or social service, he may not amass as much wealth as the less educated but talented man who takes up a business or trade.

PICNICS.

A picnic, says an orderly New Yorker, is "a group of people surrounded by refuse." That is only too often the case in a city park. It is the rule, rather than the exception, in a country picnic. Are the picnickers like that at home? Probably not. The psychology of the picnicker has never been explained. It is a mystery why he should be so much more disorderly and regardless of others' tastes and rights in public than in his own house or yard, or in those of his friends.

Perhaps nothing better should be expected of men. But why should a woman, bred to orderly housekeeping for countless generations, throw garbage, papers, tin cans and miscellaneous refuse around in plain sight, defacing a beautiful and cleanly scene, or allow her family to do so? For the time being, at least, she is no lady—just a picnicker.

This may make the decent picnickers mad. So much the better. Then they may muster up nerve enough to hawl out their friends when the latter offend.

"The talkies, even at their best, fall between two stools," writes George Jean Nathan in the American Mercury. "On the one hand, they are not the scenic and pantomimic movies of the past and, on the other, they are not the flesh and blood of the theatre." What the average observer complains of is that the talk in the talkies is hoarse, harsh and lacking in individuality, all the voices having the same mechanical sound and being too suggestive of the articulation of a single speaker.

RESTLESS CHILDREN.

When you see a youngster misbehaving in public to the embarrassment of the parents, you wonder whether it is the child or the parents that need guiding.

Investigation would often show that the youngster's antics are not due to the fact that the parents have "spared the rod and spoiled the child".

The youngster is often of a high strung nervous disposition and this exhibition of temper or obstinacy is due to some underlying cause.

On the other hand of course, this very nervousness, this tendency to emotion so upsets the natural processes of the body, such as digestion and absorption of food, that in time restlessness is produced.

Now it has been found that in these youngsters after one of these spells that the sugar in the blood is at a low level, just as in all cases of fatigue.

You will remember that in the Boston Marathon race two years ago that the very tired runners showed a low level of sugar in the blood. And the ones that showed the most fatigue were really starved for sugar.

Some of the runners the following year ate more sugar and candy previous to the race, and even carried some candy with them to eat during the race.

It has been found that these fretful youngsters have a real acidosis, that is that the alkaline reserve of the blood gets down too low.

With this in mind research men have been cutting down the milk, cream, cod liver oil, butter, and eggs.

The cereal foods, whole wheat bread, biscuits, sugar, jam, sugar candy, maple sugar, or boiled sweets may be given daily and at meal times.

In addition to this a little baking soda, about one teaspoonful in all, during the day, is given to offset the tendency to acidosis.

Sometimes there may be some poisoning of the system from bad teeth or tonsils, or some nose condition, which by creating a poison in the blood, gives the same condition of fatigue or tiredness, and restlessness.

The thought then is that the old idea of giving a sugar stick to a restless child was not really a bribe, but good "medical" treatment.

For the Love of a Lady

by Jeffery Farnol

SYNOPSIS: Love — thwarted once again by cruel misunderstanding! Sir Richard's wife to an appointment — to her might with Gregory, his loyal fine manservant. Sir Richard, in Richard's carriage, is Helen Darcy, fleeting figures her suspected whom for an explanation of the night, until, cruelly tempted, around the noble by Helen and her confederate — later she killed Julian, and Richard's sword beside the body, where he found it, to the guilt for the crime on him. Incensed to Agatha and distracted by his false inference, Helen strikes him, a vicious blow in the face with her riding-crop.

Chapter 21

ANOTHER RING

SIR RICHARD, strangely silenced by the vicious blow of Helen's whip, sat motionless and grim. They faced each other a while, she panting and desperate.

"Oh!" cried she. "Richard Guyfford, how infinitely I despise you! Gregory, take me back home!"

Sir Richard dismounted and, picking up his hat, stood listening; he heard Gregory's voice, her murmurous answer, the leafy rustling of them as they rode away. Sir Richard laughed, somewhat ruefully, and, finding the hat in his fist, clapped it on, swung to saddle and rode his solitary way. But he had gone no great distance when, moved by some sudden thought, he checked Caesar, all at once, and turning, cantered in the opposite direction.

Back rode he by familiar ways until presently his sharp ear caught the jingle of a bit, with a murmur of voices; therefore he dismounted, and stole forward in the shadow of high hedge. . . .

"Ah, Gregory," sighed my lady, "'Tis hateful world!"

Gregory sighed sympathetically, and held his peace, wherefore she questioned him immediately:

"You think the detestable monster hath found secure haven in the woods?"

"'Tis so I pray, my lady."

"Didst warn him, Gregory—of these law-officers from London?"

"Alas, no, madam. I had small chance for word with him. You spoke him of this, I hope?"

"Not I—ah, no, my poor heart was too full of his cruel injustice, his base suspicions . . . and yet should this abhorred wretch be taken or come to any harm, I think 'twould break my heart. . . . So I pray God be his sure defence now and always . . . and so dear friend, goodnight!"

Off came Gregory's hat and he stooped to the hand she reached out to him, kissed it reverently and thereafter sat bare-headed to watch her safely indoors. Even then he remained staring at the house until—the hedge rustled behind him, and starting round, he reached for his pistol-holster as a masked man stepped into the moonlight.

"All's well!" said a familiar voice, and Sir Richard smiled up at him. "Yonder went rare creature, Greg, and—prayed for me—wept! Ha, 'tis sweet, good world!"

"But, sir . . . there be men from London to hunt ye down."

"Ay, I know, Greg man, I know. But—she prayed for me, and sure such prayers cannot but be answered. Howbeit, I'm come home again, old lad."

Now as they went, Sir Richard looked up at Gregory, riding so gravely beside him.

"Ha, Greg," he said, clapping him on the knee. "'Twould seem I misjudged her—wherefore she vows me hateful, scorns and condemns me, and very naturally, Greg. Wherefore, unless they hang me, I am determined to follow your advice and make her my wife, heaven help her!"

"And, sir, I dare to suggest she favours you."

"Yes, she hath already whipped me."

"Whi—whipped you?" repeated Gregory in shocked voice.

"Heartily, Greg. The which doth argue her not altogether insensible; nay I protest it promiseth well. Faith, 'twill be a right merry wooing."

So they presently reached the village where none stirred and no light beamed.

"A pretty place, Greg!" sighed Sir Richard. "And yet here, at this moment, sheltered 'neath one of these familiar roofs, lie they, few or many, that plot my ruin, though who or why, is beyond my guessing; thus here will I hide."

"Here, sir?" demanded Gregory, starting.

"Or hereabout. Tomorrow is the inquest on poor Julian, and I shall assuredly be pronounced the murderer, so here needs must I be."

"Nay, sir, 'twere wanton risk! There are these police from London. The whole place is watched for you."

"Well, I shall be safer here under their very noses; here must I bide."

"Sir," said Gregory in pleading tones. "Oh, Master Richard, never venture yourself hereabouts, I do entreat."

Now Sir Richard, perceiving his passionate anxiety, squeezed him in long arm.

"Greg," quoth he, "good, my friend, grieve not thyself for me, for did not She pray for me? Howbeit, hereabouts goeth the murderer of Julian . . . poor Julian that died even as I found him and, dying, gasped out strange warning . . . ay, by heaven, with his last breath spake mighty strange thing, Greg, a thing hath sore puzzled me."

"What, sir—what said he?"

"'Ware, Dick," he gasped, "'ware, Dick—a cat's-eye—"

Sir Richard checked himself with hissing intake of breath, and turning swiftly to stare at Gregory, found Gregory staring at him, and gazing thus on each other, wide-eyed, were silent a while; when at last Sir Richard spoke, it was in a hoarse and broken whisper:

"Greg, he . . . he was not raving then! He had been shot from the bushes . . . he had been! A hand 'mid the leares . . . the cat's-eye ring! . . . You saw it also, Gregory—where?"

"Sir," whispered Gregory, "I saw it . . . on—her finger. But, sir, she may have lost it later."

"Or had it stolen from her, Greg, like mine—like mine. Ha, the devil! So here's another ring, then! Two of 'em! . . . And Julian died trying to tell me—what?" Sir Richard stared up at the moon. "And yet . . ." he muttered after some while, "killing may . . . be no murder . . . sometimes. It may be justifiable, Greg."

Then, all at once, he was off his horse and had thrust the reins into Gregory's lax fingers.

"Howbeit, Greg," quoth he. "I wed her . . . cat's-eye or no! Take now my Caesar, away with him to Fallowdene or hide him where ye will, and be ready o' nights to open to my ghostly rapping. Should you not see me awhile, Landlord John shall give you word o' me, and so—farewell!"

Shaking troubled head, Gregory sighed again and rode off; once or twice he turned to wave his hand to that desolate, solitary figure upon the green, but Sir Richard never heeded, since his head was bowed in distressful thought. At length he strode toward the Guyfford Arms, crossed to a certain shadowy corner where, deep in the angle, was that small door which seemed to hide from chance espial.

Drawing key from inner pocket, he stood suddenly motionless and rigid, for his sharp ears had caught a stealthy sound hard by, his quick eyes beheld a shadow that moved amid the shadows on the opposite side of the wide yard. Sir Richard turned and, moving on soundless feet, followed grimly in pursuit, his face once more hidden beneath black half-mask.

New York—Women are to have official aviation marks. Lady Heath has been informed that the Federation Aeronautique Internationale has granted her request to create a category of feminine records.

Washington—Housewives who work outside the home will be included in the coming Federal census on employment, if Miss Mary Anderson, chief of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor, has her way. "Married women do not work for pin money," she says. "Their earnings go into the family budget."

London—Megan Lloyd George is the first woman to have attained a dinner at the Reform Club. It is a Liberal organization and she and 124 men attended an affair given by the club to the parliamentary members of her father's party, the Liberals.

New York—May be when we all have airplanes there will be no animals to shoot. Mrs. Delia Akeley, big game hunter, says automobiles are spoiling the sport in Africa. The hunter drives a car to where he has been told to find game and shoots down defenseless animals without getting out of his seat.

Berlin—Most girls and a few progressive men are playing tennis in the U. S. A. sans stockings but spectators at Davis cup practice have been watching the play clad in bathing suits. The courts are near a bathing pool and a hillside that is popular for sun baths.

New York—What! Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier signed up? Negotiations are under way for them to make a talkie together.

Moscow—Nine millionaires—at least they have the reputation—in the American business party that came from Berlin on a de luxe train have been unable to tip for service of caviar, vodka or whatever they ordered. Gratuities were refused by waiters. Tipping is forbidden in Russia as degrading to workers.

New York—John F. Hylan, who seeks to be mayor again, has campaign cards reading: "Voter, who killed Rothstein? Send Hylan back to the City Hall. Send Enright back to police headquarters. They may find the man."

Ritchie Replies to Wickersham

Says Eradication of Crime, Not Enforcement of Prohibition Amendment, Is This Country's Problem.

New London, Conn., July 18 (AP)—Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, told the governors conference at its closing session here today that the country's problem is not enforcement of the prohibition amendment but the eradication of crime caused by the amendment.

Governor Ritchie, making his promised answer to the letter of George W. Wickersham, head of President Hoover's law enforcement commission, which was read here Tuesday by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, said the Volstead act has not imposed an obligation on states to enforce it. He added "it is time for the country to realize that fact."

The Wickersham letter, pointing out that the weakness of prohibition enforcement has been due to the fact that the federal government has borne the brunt of the policing work under the amendment, suggested that enforcement be divided between the states and the national authorities.

His interpretation of the amendment is that the states are given concurrent jurisdiction with the federal government in the enforcement of prohibition, but that it is optional with the states to choose the policing power conferred on them.

Governor Ritchie pointed out that courts and police in Maryland, under an attorney general's ruling, do not act in prohibition cases. He said that for this reason the courts and police are left more time to act on other cases with the result that there have been more arrests and more convictions for other types of crime than ever before and that criminality is on the wane in the state. He believed the same thing would happen elsewhere if states concentrated on classes of crime other than those created by prohibition.

Meerschaum

The chief known deposits of meerschaum in the United States are in Grant county, New Mexico. Meerschaum taken from these deposits, says the Geological survey, is very similar in appearance to that obtained from the famous deposits in Asia Minor as it appears on the market ready for carving. The Asia Minor product, however, is somewhat lighter and more spongy.

Federal Reserve To the Rescue

Atlanta Reserve Bank Sends $6,000,000 to Help Florida Situation—Reserve Official Promises "All the Money Needed."

Tampa, Fla., July 18 (AP).—Presence of $5,000,000 in cash, sent here from the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank, and promise by a Federal Reserve official of "all the money needed to meet the situation," was expected today to bolster Florida bankers and business men in their efforts to restore public confidence in the banking institutions of the state, of which 15 in this section closed yesterday. Twenty-three banks have shut their doors in the last two weeks. Aggregate deposits of those which suspended business yesterday was estimated at more than $22,500,000.

Federal authorization for two $1,000,000 currency depots in the state—one here and one at Miami—and the expressed opinion of Federal officials in Washington that the recent closing of Florida banks was due more to nervousness of the people because of the Mediterranean fruit fly situation than to any fundamental weakness in the banks was expected by local bank officials to aid what they said was increasing confidence of depositors in banks of this section.

Comptroller Ernest Amos yesterday declared he believed the primary cause of the failure was "unnecessary withdrawals propaganda; and a financial depression through the state which has been accentuated by the effect of the Mediterranean fruit fly and quarantine.

Meanwhile, in Daytona Beach, where two banks closed recently, the Daytona Beach News-Journal inaugurated a plan to bring financial reliefs to small depositors.

The newspaper has offered to advance in cash 10 per cent of deposits in either of the banks of not less than $50 and not more than $250.

BERGER'S CONDITION CRITICAL BUT REPORTED IMPROVING

Malwaukee, July 18 (AP).—Noticeable improvement was reported today in the condition of Victor L. Berger, former Socialist congressman, whose skull was fractured Tuesday when he was struck by a street car. His condition, however, was said still to be critical, and fear was expressed that pneumonia might develop.

Berger appeared to realize the seriousness of his condition for shortly after regaining consciousness yesterday he said to his wife: "I am a very sick man."

Salary for the first year is $1,920, second year, $1,980 and third year, $2,040.

GOV. AND MRS. ROOSEVELT VISIT NIAGARA FALLS.

Accepting the invitation of Judge Clearwater, president of the commissioners of the state reservation at Niagara, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, paid a visit to Niagara Falls the first of the week, going over the entire reservation with the recent acquisitions made by the commission from the one million dollar bond appropriation voted three years ago. Both greatly were pleased with the conditions which they found at Niagara.

EBONY FLUTE STOLEN FROM WASHINGTON HEADQUARTERS

An ebony flute, valued between $400 and $500, was stolen Tuesday morning from Washington's Headquarters on Liberty street, Newburgh. The theft was discovered Tuesday afternoon about 2 o'clock. Dr. John Dero, one of the trustees, notified the police of its disappearance. The flute has been in possession of the Headquarters for many years and it was prized very highly as a relic. The history in connection with the flute or its age is not known.

$1,000,000 FIRE AT SEATTLE DESTROYS UNION PACIFIC DOCK

Seattle, July 18 (AP).—Fire which destroyed the Union Pacific dock here late yesterday caused a loss of almost $1,000,000 and sent five firemen and a dock worker to the hospital burned or overcome by smoke.

Thirty-one companies of firemen and three fireboats fought the blaze for an hour before getting it under control. A cigarette, thrown carelessly aside by an employe, was blamed by officials for the blaze.

Son Born to Former Irene Castle.

Chicago, July 18 (AP).—Another child, this time a boy, has been born to Major and Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin. Mrs. McLaughlin is the former Irene Castle, dancer. Her husband is a prominent sportsman. The McLaughlins are parents of a daughter, Barbara, now three and a half years old.

FRANCE ALARMED BY CRIMES OF YOUTHS

Ghastly Murders Committed by Children.

Paris—The number of crimes committed by young people in France in the last few months has given rise to serious alarm, since if events continue as now the prisons will soon be full of juvenile murderers.

Hardly had the padlock been placed on the cell of two boys, one aged twelve and the other thirteen years, who had slain an old woman at Vaucresson, at the gates of Paris, than the newspapers were occupied with a new sensation—a butcher's boy at Francouville had battered in the head of an elderly widow, copying exactly the deed of the youths of Vaucresson.

While alarming enough in themselves, these crimes have stirred French public opinion doubly because they follow upon a sequence of other brutal outrages by young folk, apparently inspired by both blood lust and callousness.

Dourand Guillotine.

Some months ago, an example was set for other youthful murderers when young Dourand's head fell under the guillotine at Caen for the shooting of a French army officer in a train from the Riviera. But instead of striking terror to the boyish heart of France, the crime was imitated soon after by Adolf Steffen, aged eighteen. A student at Paris, he boarded the express train for Nancy one morning and during the journey climbed along the footboard and shot dead the guard in his compartment.

After a gruelling examination in jail, Steffen confessed. He is now awaiting trial and it is almost certain he will follow the youth he imitated up the steps of the scaffold.

The fate which will befall the children who committed the Vaucresson crime will be more lenient, although they have shown themselves the most cold blooded of recent murderers. According to their own confession, they mounted by means of a ladder to the bedroom of the old woman whom they had selected as victim with the intention of killing her if she refused to hand over the money.

One boy, Le Guel, held a lamp while the other, aged thirteen, battered in the old woman's head with a steel bar while she slept. A few days afterward they re-enacted the murder in the bedroom for the benefit of the police and were completely unmoved.

Can't Be Guillotined.

Under French law, any one under eighteen years cannot be guillotined, therefore Le Guel and his accomplice will be kept in a penitentiary until they reach the age of twenty-one, when they will be drafted for service as conscripts in a regiment serving abroad. After the period of service they will be required to report their movements to the authorities, but their crime will be considered as practically expiated in law.

The latest recruit to the youthful criminal gang—Marcel Menice—was arrested by gendarmes after a chase through a forest near Montigny, in the department of the Orne. He was delivered meat to the widow whom he made his victim, battering her head with a brick.

He returned to his master's store, took about $20 from the cash register and fled.

Among many high medical opinions evoked by these repeated crimes by children, most constructive is that of Doctor Heuyer, director of the Clinic of Infantile Neuropsychiatrics. He considers that the educational system is wrong.

He urges that the German method of re-education of children should be copied. Under this method, children suspected of nervous debility with tendencies towards crime are removed to special observation schools supervised by mental experts who treat them and educate them according to their mental peculiarities.

"There are eighty-three such schools in Germany," Doctor Heuyer points out, "which should be sufficient proof that there is need for the same thing here in France, where there are only three nonspecializing schools."

Woman Refuses Salary; Causes Political Stir

Annapolis, Md.—Mrs. Ethel Lorentz had a job with the city delegation in the general assembly, but she had no work to do. So she turned down her salary and it has no place to go.

Speaker E. Brooke Lee announced that the $5 a day that Mrs. Lorentz was supposed to get for her work as a clerk or secretary to the city delegation was paid to her by check, but the checks were returned uncashed and there was nothing for him to do about it.

The money will remain where it is—wherever that is—until the end of the session and then, according to Speaker Lee, it will be turned over to the Maryland general treasury.

There it will go right in with the other money with no special ceremonies, just as if it didn't enjoy the distinction of being the first salary to be turned down by anyone on the legislature's pay roll.

Mrs. Lorentz accepted employment, she said, not for the money but for the "legislative experience."

BELIEVE WINGER WAS "PUT ON THE SPOT."

New York, July 18 (AP).—Eddie Winger, 39 years old, of Philadelphia, who was wounded yesterday by several shots fired from a slowly moving sedan, died today in Governeur Hospital.

Winger refused to give the police any information that might lead to the arrest of his assailants, although detectives expressed the opinion that he had been "put on the spot" by gangsters.

He told police he had come here Monday night from Philadelphia and had registered at Libby's Baths in Delancey street, where he met a man named "Louie." He was with "Louie" when the shots were fired from the automobile. "Louie" disappeared after the fusillade.

Memoriam.

In memory of Henry Myers, who died four years ago today, July 18, 1925.

Four years ago you left us,
How me wiss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember, none
on earth can take your place.
When the shades of night are falling,
and we are sitting here alone
In our hearts there comes a longing
If you only could come home.
The blow was great, the shock severe.
We did not think your death so near.
We saw your pains, we heard your sighs.
With aching hearts and tear dimmed eyes
We saw you sinking hour by hour
But we could not stop death's awful power.
(Signed) MOTHER, FATHER, SISTERS AND BROTHERS.

In Memoriam.

In sad and loving memory of my husband, Paul E. Radatz, who departed this life one year ago today.
Gone but not forgotten.

VACATION MONEY

Little bankroll mine my pet
And the thing I'm thinking of,
All the year I've cuddled you
  For some day
  You've been true
Little bankroll it's a way
You and I will go away
To some gay and festive spot
I'll come back but you will not

Fairy Story. Once upon a time there was a man who never prepared an important memorandum.

Probably one reason the "reverences" do not flourish in the summer time is because they have so much competition from the bathing beauties.

Mistakes are chances to learn.

Is it proper to speak of a woman's chest? Not that we have any desire to, but in case we should have occasion some time to do so we'd like to know. . . . .During church service Sunday we noticed the girls in their low necks and sleeveless dresses, and then the men sweltering in their coats and vests, trying to listen to the sermon, and we wondered if the men endeavoring to conform to custom really had good sense. . . . "What have you got in this town, a fashionable riding school?" inquired a stranger. "I've seen more bow-legged girls here than you can find in a cow country". . . . .A bakery boiler in Kansas City blew up and the damage was bad enough. But think what might have happened had there been the bride's biscuits in the oven. . . . . .The only difference a Kingston man sees between a modern girl and an art statue is that one moves.

Jack (leaving for blind date)—"What did you say her name is?"

Herb—"Hummock. Always remember it rhymes with 'stomach.'"

Jack (returning two hours later)—"I couldn't find Miss Kelly."

Since prosperity is here, the only thing we can do is to try and get acquainted with it.

Ambulance, Please.

He: "Say, I just made an awful blunder! I just told a man that I thought the host was a stingy old guy and he turned out to be the host himself!"

She: "Oh, you mean my husband!"

Margery—Grandma, when you go to Heaven will you play a harp?"

Grandma—I suppose so, dear.

Margery—Then why don't you take lessons, Grandma?

Asked why the interurban car was late, the conductor politely replied: "Well, you see the car ahead was behind, and besides we were behind before that."

"Is it true that your clerk died of hard drink?"

"Yes. A cake of ice fell on his head."

The more hesitant the chap is who asks for a loan, the more chance you have of getting your money back.

Money is so tight it's quit talking aloud and gone to shouting.

THE FOUNDATION OF DEPENDABLE SERVICE

IN keeping with the needs and greatness of the Empire State is its Barge canal system. To enlarge and improve this artery of transportation during the past twenty-five years has cost approximately $175,000,000.

Twice that total—$350,000,000—has been invested in the last five years alone to enlarge and improve the voice arteries of this state—its telephone system. This year alone over $90,000,000 will be invested.

Such vast sums are a continuous requirement for the service needs of thousands of growing communities—necessary outlays that will total upwards of half a billion dollars in the next five years.

The 449 central offices with their complex equipment, the millions of miles of exchange and toll wire, the thousands of miles of subways, ducts and storm-proof cables—these are among the vital features for whose enlargement, improvement and replacement $1,000,000 must be provided every four days.

Only by constant planning ahead, and by continuous construction, can future demands for an even more complete, more dependable service be met.

Deny Motion in Replevin Action

The application made by Lloyd R. LeFever of Kingston, attorney for Anna Kriese of Saugerties, to set aside and vacate the requisition requiring Sheriff Rice of Ulster county to replevin horses, cattle and farm implements now in the possession of the defendant, Anna Kriese, was denied by County Judge Fowler Wednesday.

The plaintiff, Michele Triolo, of Glasco, claimed in the moving papers that Mrs. Kriese failed to live up to her agreement to pay the sum of one thousand one hundred dollars and she gave him a chattel mortgage and note to secure the payment of the sum mentioned which when it became due, was not paid.

The replevined horses, cattle and farm implements are now held in the custody of the sheriff under the replevin at the request of Mr. Triolo.

The summons and complaint were served at the time the sheriff made the replevin.

Attorney Grant M. Brinnier appeared for Mr. Triolo.

SUNKEN GALLEYS SOON TO YIELD ANCIENT SECRETS

Archeologists and Historians Speculate on What Will Be Disclosed.

Rome.—Now that the time is approaching when the Roman galleys in Lake Nemi will yield up their 2,000 year old secrets, archeologists and historians here a speculating as to what is likely to be discovered.

A couple of feet of wooden poop of the larger galley already shows above the water of the lake, and it is now only a matter of a few months before the galleys will be high and dry, or at any rate entirely accessible and explorable.

The galleys are generally supposed to have been luxurious houseboats of the Emperor Caligula, but historians, as a matter of fact, are not in agreement on this point. Some think that they belonged to Tiberius.

Fragments of the galleys brought to the surface during the last fifty years have revealed the names of both emperors. A piece of lead piping taken from the larger galley, and now in the Rome national museum, has Caligula's name on it, while some titles used for an ornamental pavement in the same vessel which were brought to the surface are marked with the name of Tiberius. It is recognized that possibly both emperors used the famous pleasure boats.

It is the firm conviction of many archeologists that the vessels at the bottom of Lake Nemi, or the larger one at any rate, possessed handsome libraries, composed of papyri, pergamens and wax writing tablets, bound in silver and ivory, such as the wealthy Romans used.

These papyri were often enclosed in metallic cases, called "capsae," and there is a fair presumption that this from of protection may have saved the floating library for the curiosity of the modern world.

Another object known to be in the larger ship is the emperor's strong box called the "arca ferrea." Cardinal Colonna attempted as far back as 1446 to salvage this, but the rudimentary means available at the time were quite inadequate to the task. This strong box may well contain a hoard of gold available for the imperial entourage while the emperor was passing the time of the summer heat of Rome on the lake.

Cupid Has Field Day as Bachelors Answer Ad

Ecaussines, Belgium.—Sighing and the sound of soft kisses, mingled with the May breezes that blew over Ecaussines as forlorn maidens and freedom-wearied bachelors met, embraced and swore to be married.

The bachelors came by trainloads in answer to an advertisement broadcast throughout Europe announcing that the maidens of Ecaussines, outnumbering the youths by eight to five, were tired of remaining single and wanted husbands.

The turnout was stupendous, but each bachelor was welcomed with a hearty handshake by the president of the Ecaussines Matrimonial association and led immediately to the throng of young women who blushed when they saw the crowds that answered their call. Each greeted her bachelor with a kiss.

In the evening the bachelors sat down to a huge feast which the maidens had prepared, and afterward there was dancing, with an interval "for proposing."

Anniversary Of Historical Indian Battle

Seven Historical Societies of Ulster and Sullivan Counties Unite to Celebrate Sesqui-Centennial of the Battle of Minisink—Recently Discovered Indian Canoe to be Exhibited.

An Indian canoe recently discovered in York Lake will be on exhibition on the Minisink battlefield next Monday, when the sesqui-centennial of the battle will be celebrated. The canoe was found by men who were getting the grounds ready for the celebration. It lay in twenty feet of water and was weighted down with stones. It is now being reconditioned and will be an interesting relic.

The program next Monday will begin at 11 o'clock, standard time. It starts with the singing of "America," led by Roy Leslie Holmes of Monticello and the Monticello Band. A flag raising by Boy Scouts of Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties and the scouts from Brooklyn, the Bronx and Staten Island, who are at the big camp at Ten Mile River, will follow. Scouts and members of the American Legion will lead in a salute to the flag and the Legion Firing Squad will fire a volley in memory of those who gave their lives on this field. The Scouts will repeat the Scout Oath.

A chorus from Monticello and Liberty will lead in community singing and Onondaga Indians will give a dance which will be followed by a talk by Chief Jesse Lyons of the Indians. The Monticello Band will provide a musical program. At 12 o'clock a basket picnic will be enjoyed. Lunch can also be purchased on the grounds.

The literary program will be held in the afternoon. After marching and singing by Girl Scouts, a bronze tablet, firmly fastened to the monument on the battlefield fifty years ago, will be unveiled by a member of the family of Colonel Tusten, who lost his life in the battle and in whose memory the town of Tusten is named. This will give the names and record of the militia killed in the battle. Flag exercises by the Girl Scouts and a recitation by a Junior Girl Scout, Julia Denton Cuddeback of Port Jervis, will follow. The recitation will be "Our Flag, Your Flag and My Flag."

After a selection by the band, the chairman, Dr. W. L. Cuddeback, of Port Jervis, will give a record of conditions and events in the Minisink region one hundred and fifty years ago.

Dr. Alexander C. Flick, state historian, will deliver an address on "The Share of New York in the Development of the Freedom of the Nation." His address will be in keeping with the spirit of the peace celebrations of the Sullivan-Clinton campaign through New York and Pennsylvania, that broke the power of the Indians and the Tories on the American border.

Short addresses will be delivered by the following:

George L. Cooze of Monticello, county judge of Sullivan county, on "Major General John Sullivan, His Life and Services in the Revolution."

Judge Joseph W. Corbett of Goshen, "The Men of Goshen at Minisink."

The Hon. William T. Doty, of Circleville, president of the Middletown Historical Society, on "The Battle of Minisink and Minisink Village."

Justice Gilbert D. B. Hasbrouck of Kingston, on "The Assistance of Ulster County in the Battle."

The Hon. George F. Ketcham of Warwick, president of the Warwick Historical Society, on "Record and Data of Warwick and Its Soldiers."

The Hon. Raphael L. Weed, president of the Newburgh Historical Society, on, "The Record of Newburgh and That Vicinity in the Battle."

Horace E. Twichell, an eighty year old resident of Highlands, will relate incidents and personalities of the historic event. Daniel F. Cock, of Port Jervis will read a few verses from an original poem by Henry A. Van Fredenberg of Sparrowbush on "The Battle of Minisink." Edward P. Jones of Port Jervis will read a letter descriptive of the battle written by Joseph Brandt, commander of the Indians and Tories, three days after it occurred and will present extracts from newspapers of that year with other letters and facts prepared by Albert Hasen Wright of Cornell University.

The best route for most Sullivan county people is to proceed to White Lake and motor south over a newly made town and county stone road with oil finish through Eldred and Barryville. Ulster county people will find their best and quickest route through Wurtsboro, Monticello and White Lake. Orange and Sussex county people should motor through Port Jervis to Forestburgh and thence to Glen Spey, Eldred and Barryville. From Barryville, a road has been built on the canal property and town roads have been improved and the battlefield three miles distant is easily accessible. Captain Daniel E. Fox of the state police stationed at the Sidney Barracks has ordered six state police to the scene to direct traffic. Boy Scouts will assist. Cars will be parked on the Twichell Farm.

Seven historical societies of Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties, have planned this celebration. They are the Sullivan County Historical Society, The Minisink Valley Historical Society, The Historical Society of Middletown and Wallkill Precinct, The Goshen Literary and Historical Society, The Warwick Historical Society, the Ulster County Historical Society and the Historical Society of Newburgh and the Highlands.

Dr. W. L. Cuddeback of Port Jervis is general chairman; Edward P. Jones of Port Jervis is secretary and Mrs. John F. Rosa of Monticello is treasurer. Vice-presidents and committee members are: Adelbert M. Sackett, Judge Joseph W. Corbett, Arthur H. Naylor, the Hon. William T. Doty, George F. Ketcham, A. C. Tompkins, Superintendent Edward Hiscock, County Judge George L. Cooze, Raphael L. Weed, Chairman Edwin B. Knapp of the Sullivan County Board of Supervisors, Horace E. Twichell, Justice A. H. F. Seeger, Supervisor William H. Wallace, Peter E. Schantz, County Judge Russell Wheeler, Samuel M. Cuddeback, Mrs. A. H. Neale, Mrs. Emma Van Inwegen, Mrs. George M. Van Duzer, Eugene Clark, Benjamin C. Swartwout, Van Hornbeck, Alonzo Calkins, Samuel L. Stewart, Charles H. Turner, L. A. Toepp, Mark V. Richards, Mrs. Emma C. Chase. Three members of the committee have died since the work was started, Justice George H. Smith of Monticello, George F. Gregg of Goshen and Mrs. Alice Van Etten Van Inwegen of Cuddebackville.

Black Frocks for Summer Are Sheer

Crepe for Day Wear; Net for Evening; Taffeta Liked by Parisians.

The black gown, to be correct for summer evenings, must be sheer. This is the edict of the smart world everywhere. The black frock for day wear may be of crepe, but it has the advantage of being relieved by lingerie touches, this being one of the outstanding features of the year.

One's choice in sheer black is no longer limited to chiffon. There are chiffons in plenty, but net merits higher praise, while georgette is not to be forgotten when selecting fabrics.

Since Chanel took to tailoring net, lesser lights have followed suit. Molded net bodices are sometimes tucked horizontally, and waistlines in other cases are puckered or shirred at whatever level is desired.

That chemise or camisole necklines are being revived is welcome news to many women. Shoulder straps in these instances may be as narrow as is possible, Chanel's use of silk cord being widely copied. Assymetric necklines are also favored, while, of course, the cut front, and daringly cut back decolletage are still widely sponsored.

Net gowns, like any others, may be uneven in length, but they may also offer something of a surprise, being as straight as a circular cut skirt will permit. In order to keep the bouffant skirt in position, the full underskirt may be banded with hair braid, this when thinly veiled having the effect of lace.

An interesting Cullot frock is distinguished by its marked irregularity of outline. Its anguiar drapery might be called the modern motif in apparel.

Waistlines have a reputation for being restless. They have their ups and downs, but until recently have been content to be reasonably straight up and down. There are ever so many indentations this season, nip-in waistlines having found favor by O'Rossen who exploited them in his spring suit collection, and by ever so many of the couture. Molded lines, whether actually princess or not have become the most desirable waistline, and whether one varies the silhouette by a supplementary bolero or jacket, there is something to accent the waistline, be it at the top of the hips, or higher. The line may not be straight, for it seems logical to follow the dip of the hem.

One notices a tendency to outline a trim shoulder as well as hip. The collar-over-the-coat movement has quite naturally added to the importance of collars. Yokes also have found favor and are instrumental in giving a clear-cut line to the shoulder. Self-collars are quite as good in their way as contrasting ones, excepting that in the case of a black or blue frock there is a penchant for a white or eggshell lingerie collar.

While printed dresses may be variously trimmed, one is quite within their rights to eschew other trimming than is provided by the color and motif of the gown itself. Self-collars, belts, too, for that matter, have a way of being bowed.

Bow as Ornament for Accessories, Costumes

The bow appears to be the sacred cow of ornamentation in accessories as well as in costumes. Its possibilities are infinite in adding the feminine touch.

The jaunty bow becomes a most sedate little decoration when it is made of leather and stitched flat all around to the flap of an envelope bag.

A flat tailored bow nicely bound is the sole ornament to soft suede gloves of French origin, for which milady has a predilection.

Orange Felt

A charming little felt hat is made of orange-colored felt and is trimmed at the side with a very small gardenia of the same color, a little more neutral in tone.

Paris!

Sketched a very demure black and white model at Paray's with pleated fichu collar and frilled cuffs. There is a mild revival of clothes of this puffy type. Nothing serious, however.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

A Bathing Suit With a Circular Calico Skirt.

New York—Who would ever guess that the lady of the illustration was in her bathing suit. Mary Nowitsky who has concentrated this season on creating effective beach costumes, conceived the idea of adding or subtracting a skirt to one's bathing suit so that it might be worn to and from the beach as well as on it.

Her receipt is, take one gay knitted bathing suit and add to this one calico skirt, circular preferred, joining same by an attractive jersey girdle bowed to the side, the skirt incidentally is also bound with jersey matching the suit. That she saw this picturesque and practical costume in red and yellow shows that she too is under the Andulusian influence which seems to permeate so many things just now.

An Adaptation of Mary Nowitsky's Garden Costume, Chooses Calico for the Circular Cut Skirt in a Combination of Red With Yellow Flowers Banded With Yellow Jersey Which Knots Into a Bow. The Jersey Matches the Bathing Suit Also Elaborated by Bows.

Beaches are a study in many things, not the least of which is fashion. One finds there overalls, shorts, swimming suit pajamas, white duck "gob" trousers and all sorts of seeming contradictions, yet they all express in their own way the idea that women should be picturesque in the water and on the beach and that since it is play time an amusing element may safely be introduced in the costumes worn.

All manner of picturesque hats, of the sombrero and ten gallon variety to the skull cap are being worn. Shoes are in some instances quite as ornate as those usually encountered on polished floors rather than sand. Even the most conservative beaches have lifted the ban off backless bathing suits. Those of us who have been puzzled to know what the wild waves are saying might well be surprised if we only knew.

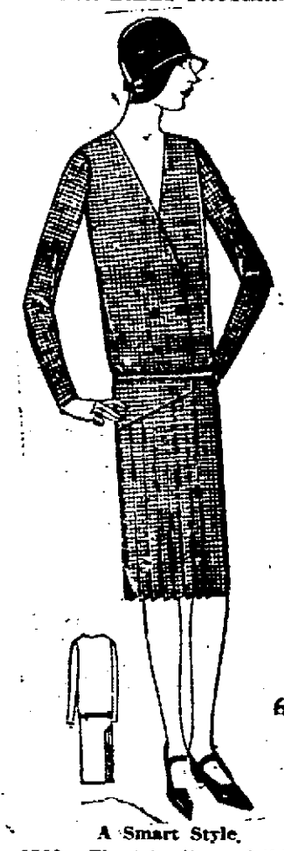
OUR DAILY PATTERN.



A Smart Style.

6520. The trim lines of this tailored frock will be liked by discriminating women. It is here developed in checked gingham in brown and white. A tweed patterned cotton rayon would also be good for this style. Linen and pique are also suggested. Asymmetric lines are featured in this design. The right front overlaps the left front above the plait portions, which lengthens the right front, and the right side of the back. The neck edge is shaped in a deep V. The sleeve is a fitted model. A narrow belt holds the dress at slight blousing.

The pattern for this frock is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. To make a 38 inch size will require 3⅞ yards of 39 inch material. The width of the frock at the lower edge with plait fulness extended is 2½ yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says "constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

There were over sixty people present and the evening was spent visiting, playing cards and members of the club orchestra played so that the folks could dance. At 11:30 refreshments were served and three birthday cakes appeared upon the tables with the necessary number of candles for each of the celebrants. After refreshments there was more music and hopes of more birthdays soon.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 18 (AP).—Uneasiness over the weekly Federal Reserve statement to be issued after the close of today's market accounted for the widespread irregularity in price movement in today's session.

Pool operations were resumed in about a score of specialties, which were marked up 2 to 5 points, but many of the recent favorites, particularly in the railroad group, yielded one to five points on selling by professional traders who desired to lengthen their long commitments.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent and appeared to be plentiful at that figure. Time money rates held firm around 7¾ per cent. No change was made in the rate of the bank of England, and no change is expected at the New York Federal Reserve meeting after the close.

Trade and earnings reports continued favorable. Current prosperity of the railroads is reflected in the increased purchases of equipment which, in turn, has stimulated the trading in the equipment stocks. Reports that independent oil producers were seeking a tariff on oil apparently was without market influence.

Commission houses continue to stress the possibility of a sharp readjustment in security values, and urge caution in the making of new commitments. With brokers' loans already close to the highest level in all time, fears were expressed by some houses that a sharp increase to a new high record today might have an adverse effect on speculative sentiment.

Johns Manville, which has been mentioned in unconfirmed Wall street rumors as a nucleus of a large building materials merger, ran up 8½ points. R. H. Macy advanced 6½, General Railway Signal 4 and Glidden, Radio, Golddust, Gillette Safety Razor, Columbia Graphophone, City Ice and Fuel, Fox Film and Abitibi Power 2 to 4 points.

New high prices were registered by Crown Cork and Seal, Lima Locomotive, Public Service of New Jersey and United States and foreign securities.

On the other hand, Midland Steel Products preferred dropped nearly 6 points and Commercial Investment Trust, A. M. Byers, Simmons, Otis Elevator, American Linseed and Safeway Stores yielded 2 points or more.

Quotations given by Parker McElroy & Co., members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York city, branch office, Stuyvesant Hotel.

Ulster Doctors to Perform Autopsy

Ulster and Kings county authorities are marking time pending completion of an autopsy of the body of Isador Barnett, Brooklyn merchant, who died suddenly in the L. Kitta boarding house near Wawarsing on Monday.

The autopsy which was to have been made on Tuesday in New York city by Kings county surgeons, will be performed instead by Ulster county doctors, prosecutors of the two counties have decided. The change was considered expedient in the event the matter ever entered the Ulster county courts.

Awaits Doctors' Return.

Cleon B. Murray, assistant district attorney of Ulster county, said that nothing new in the case would be expected until the completion of the chemical analysis of Barnett's organs within a few days.

Barnett died while visiting his wife at the Wawarsing boarding place. His death during the night was attributed to indigestion, but an anonymous telephone call to District Attorney Charles J. Dodd of Brooklyn, purporting to come from "a lodge brother" roused suspicions.

The body had been shipped to New York, but it was seized by the authorities in Weehawken.

State Closes Citizens Bank At Fleischmanns

State Department Takes Possession of Citizens' Bank of Griffin Corners Because It Was Conducting Its Business in An Unauthorized and Unsafe Manner.

New York, July 18 (AP).—The state banking department announced today it had taken possession of the business and property of the Citizens' Bank of Griffin Corners, Fleischmanns N. Y., because it was conducting its business in an unauthorized and unsafe manner.

The bank was organized in 1910. The published figures under date of June 29, 1929, show: Capital $25,000; surplus, $28,000; deposits, $319,000.

The amount invested in banking house, real estate, and bonds and mortgages the past few years has been out of proportion to the amount of its resources, according to the state banking department. These assets appear to be substantially good but may be slow in realization.

After the examination on May 18, last, the bank appeared solvent but the department insisted upon steps being taken to improve its position, the department announced. Since then, negotiations have been under way for a merger but the prospects appear problematical.

"Certain improper and unsound practices have just come to our attention which render it inadvisable for the bank to continue business under the present management," the statement said, "in order to conserve the assets and protect the depositors, the department has taken possession of the bank."

Add New Trip to Schedule.

Finn, Jr., of Albany, arrested on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated early in June, must be produced in police court on Saturday morning by his bondsman, or the bond will be forfeited, under a ruling handed down by Judge Shufeldt this morning when Finn failed to appear to stand trial. The case has been adjourned several times, and this morning Judge Shufeldt was informed that a telegram had been received from Finn that owing to illness he would not be present today. Finn was arrested by Sterling Baker of this city.

Assault Charge And Other Cases

Mrs. Arvesta Cassell of 219 Catherine street, was arrested Wednesday on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Elizabeth Fadoul of 217 Catherine street, who charged Mrs. Cassell with calling her vile names and threatening her. The hearing was adjourned to Monday in police court.

John Fischer of 116 Broadway was arraigned this morning on a warrant sworn out by Daniel VanDyke, a negro of 49 Van Buren street, who charged Fischer with assault in the third degree, in beating him up with his fists. Fischer entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was adjourned to July 26.

Philip K. Edwards of New Gardens pleaded guilty to driving past the signal set against him at the Rondout Creek Bridge, and also to driving a car without a license. He was fined $5 on each charge.

FREEMAN WANT ADS BRING RESULTS!

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, July 18 (AP).—State Department of Agriculture and Markets.—The short supply of home grown cabbage available on the wholesale district today changed hands readily at advanced prices. White cabbage peddled out at $2.50-$3 a barrel. The Savor variety realized $1.50-$2 and the red $2.50-$3.50.

The market was in a chaotic condition on state Big Boston lettuce. Supplies were heavy and the demand continued exceedingly limited. The price in most instances was less important than finding a buyer. Many of the sales were made at 25-65c a crate. In a few instances some strictly fancy reached $1.

California grapes were in limited receipt and values averaged higher. Lugs of about 24 pounds of the Malaga variety sold at auction at $2.15-$2.30. The seedless variety brought $3.25-$3.90.

The grape crop in New York state, while not as good as last year, appears to be making good progress with a condition of 72 per cent, as compared with 78 last July. The condition in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan is considerably below last year, while in California it is much lower than a year ago.

Prices on state green peas slumped sharply and ranged widely, due to the increased receipts and great variation in the quality. Wholesale business on bushel baskets was reported as high as $3.50 and as low as $2. Western telephone peas, in bushel hampers, sold at $3.50-$4.25.

Orange county celery was in moderate receipt. Trading was fair and the market held steady, particularly on fancy large stock. Two-thirds crates of stock in the rough peddled out at $4-$4.50, with some really fancy commanding $5.50.

Berries from the Hudson valley were in limited receipt. Blackberries jobbed out again at 25-28c a quart and gooseberries at 25-27c. Red currants ranged from 9-15c and black currants at 25-35c.

Red raspberry prices declined due to the continued liberal supply from Washington. Hudson valley red raspberries brought 10-22c a pint and Washington, 10-20c; mostly 14-18c.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, July 18.—During the beginning of the week a representative from the Junior Red Cross League was present in the normal school building. She spoke and gave demonstrations before several classes of summer students. Her exhibits consisted mainly of collections of articles made by children from foreign lands, the idea being the American youngsters could exchange their own handiwork with that of other children. In this way the young Americans would build up appreciation in so far as the work of non-American young people was concerned.

Stephen Johnston and family have arrived at Los Angeles, motoring from their winter home at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the distance of 3,171 miles. Their route was over the Old Spanish Trail, the trail that was blazed by four centuries of Spaniards, (soldiers and a following of the Franciscan Fathers). Mrs. Johnston described their trip very briefly in a letter but says to do justice to this wonderful journey, the Old Spanish Trail, would require several volumes. While in camp at Pacific Beach they met a Policeman Goss, a friend of John Nilon of New Paltz, and he also knew the Morans and Dodds of New Paltz. While in Los Angeles they were entertained at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ferrell, Mrs. Sarah McMullen and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Paul, also former New Paltz people.

An old fashioned barn dance was held at the Jim Cunningham farm last Saturday evening. The scene of the dance was lighted by the light of the moon blended with the rays of a few lanterns. The city folks enjoyed this spectacular affair. They danced the Virginia reel and sang "The Sidewalks of New York" and the song "I Love You in December as I Do in May." Also "Way Down Yonder in The Corn Field." Finally Mr. Cunningham announced it was daylight, time for bed, and that he must go to work. The guests were, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Foley, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bradley, Miss Rita Clark, F. Bradley, Miss McGuiness, Miss Anna Ledyard, Mr. and Mrs. P. Gormanly, C. Richard Shaden, Mrs. P. Devlin, son, Vincent, and daughter, Veronica.

Thousands witnessed the impressive spectacle.

West Shore Had Easy Time With Manhattan Nine

By coupling their hits with nine errors the West Shore Railroaders were able to give the Manhattans a good shellacking to the tune of 15-2 Wednesday evening at the Athletic Field. The win put the Railroaders in striking distance of the league leading Gascos, being but one game behind them.

Eddie Stauble was on the mound for the Manhattans when the game started and was hit quite freely. But it was not all his fault the score was so one-sided, for his teammates played ragged behind him. He was succeeded in the fifth inning by Stanley Colvin, who fared much better.

Ralph Williams had an easy time of it pitching for the Railroaders, but two Manhattans being able to solve his delivery, and then not until he had a big lead in the sixth inning. Mills and Colvin were the two batters to connect safely off Williams.

George Bush was the hitting hero of the game. He poled a home run with a man on base in the first inning, besides collecting a double and a single.

The Railroaders scored in every inning except the third and fifth. The fourth inning was their best, scoring six times in that inning.

The Manhattans scored their runs in the fourth and sixth.

Baseball's Strong Men Are Rough On Pitchers

Good, solid base hits, many bearing extra base tags, represent the replies of Fatt Fothergill and Hack Wilson, the strong men of baseball, to the taunts of enemy fans.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By William J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer)

With the National League race threatening momentarily to become a strictly private affair between the Pirates and the Cubs, John McGraw deployed his forces upon the Polo Grounds front this morning in an attempt to stem the Corsair rush. The impending series may be called crucial for the Giants alone; to the jaunty Buccaneers it constitutes just four more ball games.

The Giants brushed up yesterday for their do-or-die effort by bowing courteously to the fallen Cardinals, who came to life and accepted the decision by 6 to 1. The Pirates got only an even break at Boston, losing the first game, 7 to 4, and taking the nightcap, 13 to 5. The Cubs profited from the Pirate slip by smothering the Phillies, 16 to 3, and so gained half a game on the leaders. The Pittsburgh margin now is just two games.

Charlie Root had a breeze in Philadelphia as eighteen Chicago hits beat a merry tune against the outer ramparts of Baker Bowl. Rogers Hornsby helped Root with a homie run and two other hits.

Brooklyn crowned three Cincinnati pitchers for seventeen hits to win the final game of the series by 10 to 5. The result delayed the march of the Reds upon seventh place, and kept the Robins within four games of fourth.

The Athletics dropped another one to the Indians, who won by 5 to 2 behind Walter Miller's six-hit pitching. Young Bill Shores was the victim.

The Mackmen nevertheless remained eight games ahead of the Yankees, who contrived to toss off a four-run lead in the ninth and permit the Tigers to win by 9 to 8 in the tenth. Babe Ruth's twenty-second homer and some smart pitching by Waite Hoyt, up to the final crash, went into the discard.

In the big Detroit ninth, Hoyt, Combs and Bengough so inserted one error apiece among three Detroit hits and a pass that four runs resulted. Then in the tenth the Yankees failed with the bases filled, and Detroit ended the anguish by sending Sorrell home with the winning marker in the home half of the round.

Sammy Gray gained an even break for the Browns in their series against the Red Sox by pitching five-hit ball yesterday to win by 4 to 0.

The Senators won from the White Sox in the final game of the series at Chicago by a score of 6 to 2.

BETTING FOUR TO ONE FRANCE RETAINS DAVIS CUP

Paris, July 18 (AP).—Regardless of whether the United States or Germany is to be the opposing nation, France is looking forward without undue nervousness to the Davis Cup tennis challenge round here July 26, 27 and 28. The betting is four to one that France retains the cup.

French confidence was increased by results of the French and British championships. On the way to the final at Wimbledon the tri-color players met and defeated Bill Tilden, John Hennessey, John Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison and George Lott while Daniel Prenn and Hansmoldenhauer, German singles aces, were trimmed by Christian Boussus and Henri Cochet in this country's title event.

GRIFFITH IN SERIOUS CONDITION AFTER OPERATION

Chicago, July 18 (AP).—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club of the American League, today was in a serious condition following an emergency operation for appendicitis.

Griffith, one of the most prominent figures in major league baseball, became acutely ill Tuesday night, and yesterday afternoon had a dangerously infected appendix removed.

American prune growers are running ahead of their foreign competitors, says the North Pacific Cooperative Prune exchange.

Belmonts Beat O'Keefe's Pirates

At Haines Falls Sunday afternoon the Belmont All Stars defeated the O'Keefe's Pirates by a score of 10 to 2. There was plenty of hard hitting by both teams. Many spectacular plays featured the game. Double plays were completed now and then by the All-Stars which spoiled the Pirates' chances of scoring.

In the third inning Campbell made a neat double play unassisted. Campbell caught a fly out in centerfield and then ran in and touched second. When this happened there was but one out and the All-Stars had the bases loaded. Donovan also made a double play unassisted.

Donovan and Belmont both cracked the ball out for three safeties. Among these three hits was a double, triple and a homer. Meagher also used the bat effectively. McGuire and Canavan led their companions with the ash each clouting out two singles.

Charles O'Hara did some fine pitching for the All-Stars. He had three strikeouts to his credit but his control slipped up on him twice when he gave the batter a free base on four balls. Award was hit hard and frequently. He had but two strikeouts to his credit and his control was marked with two walks.

Leiner Anxious To Capture Title From Nick Zinna

The fights at the Kingston armory Friday night promise to make a card that will be both fast and interesting. In the main event of the show Maxie Leiner of New York fights Nick Zinna of this city. Both of these men have natural talent for handling their gloves. Zinna is the National Guard champion lightweight and junior welterweight of the Hudson Valley. This will be the crown that Leiner will strive to secure. The fight is scheduled to go ten rounds.

Maxie Leiner is a cousin of the famous Benny Leonard but this is not the reputation that Maxie is living on. He is out to fight and win honors for himself and have people say something else about him besides talking about his relationship. Evidently Leiner is good or he would not be leading the cards for the bouts in the New York armories.

In one of the three six round fights, 'one punch', Kid Buckman of Kingston will clash with Young Moffatt of New York. Buckman is well known to the fans for knocking out his opponent. He has a powerful punch and once his opponent has the misfortune of getting in the way of it, generally everything ends right there.

In the two other six round bouts, Johnny Blaine fights Dick Cruze of New York and Johnny Cuccio of New York meets Al Lamont also of New York.

The four round bout will bring together Ted Mayone of this city and Charlie Garrison also a local fighter.

Loughran Fights Braddock Tonight

New York, July 18 (AP).—The light heavyweight championship falls some 20-odd pounds per man and many thousand dollars short of being as big as the heavyweight title, but today it looks big enough to James J. Braddock of New Jersey.

"Jersey Jimmy" has risen in a brief boxing career to the post of challenger for the 175-pound crown, won by Tommy Loughran, and tonight he pits his right hand wallop that has brought him to the top over the battered forms of such scrappers as Tuffy Griffiths and Jimmy Slattery against the boxing skill of the champion.

The fight is being staged in the Yankee Stadium, biggest of New York's open air arenas, and is for 15 rounds.

Campolo Wins on Foul.

New York, July 18 (AP).—Very little information concerning the fighting ability of Vittorio Campolo, Argentina's gigantic heavyweight, came out of his North American debut. Campolo was in action just seven minutes 37 seconds against Arthur Dekuh, Italian-American boxer, in a battle at Ebbets Field last night, winning on a foul halfway through the third round.

Find Richest Helium Deposit

Engineers Estimate That the New Supply, Found in Colorado, Will Last United States for Twenty Years.

Detroit, Mich., July 18 (AP).—Officers of the Detroit Aircraft Corporation, whose subsidiary concern, the Aircraft Development Corporation, is building the first all-metal dirigible for the United States Navy, were informed last night that new deposits of helium gas had been found in Colorado which will provide sufficient lifting gas for inflation and operation of all United States airships for the next 20 years.

Colonel Turney Gratz and W. R. Offutt, of the Helium Company, commercial producers of the gas, authorized announcement of the discovery, Detroit Aircraft Corporation officials said.

The new field is by far the richest helium deposit yet found, the Helium Company officers said, the gas having a helium content of 7.07 per cent. The best previous content was 3.6 per cent.

"While it is impossible to determine accurately the total volume of this new field," Colonel Gratz said, "our corps of chemical research engineers estimated that the deposit will meet the demands of airship builders and operators for a minimum of 20 years."

Colonel Gratz said he could not reveal the exact location at which development work was being conducted, but announced construction already had been started on a production plant at a southern Colorado point.

Transfusion for William Fox

Condition Reported Satisfactory—Driver of Car Which Injured Him and Killed His Chauffeur Said to Have Had No License.

Mineola, N. Y., July 18 (AP)—The condition of William Fox, motion picture producer, injured in an automobile wreck, was called satisfactory today after a blood transfusion.

Mr. Fox was injured yesterday in an accident in which his chauffeur, Joseph Boyes, 36, was killed. Jacob Rubenstein, a friend riding with Mr. Fox, escaped with slight bruises.

The accident happened at Old Westbury, Long Island, when a car driven by Miss Dorothy Kane of New York collided with the Fox car at a crossroad. Mr. Fox's car was overturned in a ditch. Boyes was pinned under it and his head crushed.

First reports of the injuries suffered by Mr. Fox quoted Dr. Wilfred Post, the attending physician at Nassau County Hospital, as saying the film magnate had suffered a hemorrhage of the brain, but in a later statement Dr. Post said: "Fox is severely injured, but his condition is not alarming. He is progressing satisfactorily and his condition is favorable. There is no discovery of any brain injury as yet."

Mr. Fox minimized the extent of his injuries and sent out word through one of his executives that he had suffered no more than a slight scalp abrasion, and would be about in two days at the outside.

Miss Kane, who detectives said had no driver's license, was arrested but released with a summons to appear later.

Mr. Fox is 50 years old. His personal fortune has been estimated at $35,000,000. He carries life insurance policies totaling $6,400,000 and once remarked that if no one else would be sorry for his death he would be mourned by the president of every large insurance company in the world.

Hay Fever

Home Treatment

If you want a really effective treatment for Hay or Rose Fever go right to McBride's Drug store and ask for a bottle of Opex.

Spray the nostrils two or three times a day—oftener if necessary.

You'll be surprised and delighted—not only will Opex soothe and heal the raw inflamed membrane, but it will promptly stop the humiliating discharge. If it fails, get your money back.

If you start to use Opex now the expected attack may not appear—this happened in many cases last year.

The price is but $1.00 and McBride's Drug Store will gladly tell you all about it.

Monster Rocket Causes Sensation

Worcester, Mass., July 18 (AP)—The search of a professor of physics at Clark University for a new propellant for rockets designed to explore the upper air strata of the earth caused a sensation here shortly yesterday afternoon but left the result of the experiment, figuratively at least, somewhat up in the air.

First reports from the isolated district in which Professor Robert H. Goddard has his 50-foot steel tower and experiment station, were that a flaming meteor had burst with a terrific detonation. Other persons thought an airplane had crashed and so great was the excitement that two police ambulances dashed through the section looking for victims while an airplane took off from the Grafton airport in search of the wreckage.

But to Professor Goddard the excitement was only an incident in 17 years of experimentation. He admitted that the projectile might have made slightly more noise than some of the others he has set off at various times but declared nothing had exploded in the air and there had been no damage except that incident to landing.

He declined to say where the rocket had come down and scouted reports that he was attempting to find a practicable way of making a trip to the moon, as had been rumored.

The rocket was nine feet long, about 28 inches in girth and was said to have been powered in such a manner that successive charges of explosive were designed to keep it shooting at an even pace through the sky.

It was shot from the base of the steel tower along rails leading to the apex. Grooves in the side of the projectile guided it up the rails.

"THE CRADLE SNATCHERS" AT WOODSTOCK PLAYHOUSE.

The new Woodstock Play House is located at the junction of the Woodstock-Saugerties and Woodstock-Kingston roads.

New Police Car Damaged.

Shortly after midnight this morning while the new Buick car of the Kingston police department was parked against the curb on upper Broadway, a car driven by Andrew J. Worf of 97 Abeel street, going up Broadway, crashed into it, damaging the left rear fender. Mr. Worf agreed to make good for the damage. This was the first accident that the new car has so far figured in.

Kingston Post Annual Meeting

Friday night the annual meeting of Kingston Post will be held in the American Legion Memorial Building. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected as well as delegates to the county convention. A large attendance is expected. All members of the Post are asked to be present to cast their votes for the candidates of their choice.

Annual reports of the various committees and auxiliaries of the Post will be submitted, showing the work the Legionnaires have accomplished during the past year.

A committee will no doubt be appointed to arrange for the transportation of Kingston Legionnaires and Auxiliaries to the state convention in Utica on September 5, 6 and 7. Ulster county expects to have the largest delegation it ever has had in the parade to be held in Utica on Friday, September 6, led by the local drum corps. Mike Ferguson, the local mason contractor, who is a veteran of the 78th Division, and who was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for valor on the battlefields of France, is being mentioned as marshal of the Ulster county delegation.

There will be no meeting of the Legion Auxiliary Friday night.
